Problem Statement

When booking a hotel online, users usually rely only on photos and reviews, which do not always show the real atmosphere of the place. This can make it hard to know whether the hotel will truly match their expectations.

Problem Solution

A digital app that solves this problem by including a VR mode allowing users to explore the hotel virtually before booking. This helps them feel the atmosphere, understand the space better, and make a more confident and informed decision.